

Searching of Scheme in Personality Education through Chinese Poetry Education

Kim, Mi-Seon
Cheongju University

In this study's research aim is searching of scheme in personality education through Chinese poetry education. And research scope is revealed from the necessary Chinese poetry research contents for personality education. Nowadays, in the secondary education, cultivating of talent for development of personality and creativity is emphasizing. Therefore, in order to approach with assignment of the basis of every attention by filial piety, that is to say, the base of humanity becomes personality education, I examined the theme of personality education with filial piety contents to comprised in the Chinese poetry.

Nowadays, in the type of a variety of education, school education, society education and domestic education and so on, the youth personality education's problem is a great knotty subject in our society. Neither through the personality education nor solve this youth's a variety of problem. About this method and contents of approach in personality education, I conceived a variety of phases which covered the Chinese poetry in the scope of Chinese letter education, crystal of philosophy and thoughts and words which left by saints.

First of all, in this study's aim and scope, I considered the background of Chinese poetry related filial piety performance in moral rules to govern the Five Human Relations of Confucian basis which can be communicated in the human relationship regardless of East and West and time past and present. In the main discourse, I considered that Five Human Relations among the poem pieces which intended not to forget with devotion and filial piety for parents centering filial piety basis of hundred conducts.

Pieces' contents is centering works revealed from filial piety such as sincerity of lovable sun, Sincerity of harboring mandarin and sincerity of short grass and also affection of mother by blood and so on. Centering the work revealed from filial piety, if it use in the personality education of the secondary education, it brings to create the mind of original which can be recovered from personality.

Like the above one, I intended to suggest a course of youth's personality education through Chinese poetry which was theme of filial piety in the Chinese poetry literature. Therefore, nowadays in the Chinese education, I search the one-oriented personality education through Chinese poetry in the Chinese letter education and I intended to approach the importance of Chinese letter education.